I'm sick and fucking tired

I told you I'm leaving the drama

yet you give me attention, you ban my accounts that have no posts breaking tos, thats harassment, youre an actual dickrider if you are sick and tired of taking down my account then don't fucking interact with me, you are complaining about something you are constantly enacting because you're a smooth brained idiot with a God complex

if you do not like me, block me, if you do not want to see my content, do not give me attention and seek out my posts or let others send you my posts, if you do not like me as a person, do not talk about me because it is making you worse,

I have to talk to you like a fucking kindergartener and explain basic concepts because you have the fucking IQ level of toddler

let me repeat it again

IF YOU DO NOT LIKE ME, DO NOT INTERACT, DO NOT VIEW MY POSTS, DO NOT SEND ANONS TO MY PAGE, AND MOST IMPORTANTLY BLOCK MY ME IF YOU CANNOT GRASP THAT CONCEPT, YOU ARE AN IDIOT WITH THE INTELLIGENCE OF A ROCK

Shut up.

Reading your monologues, the personality you project onto everyone better than you, and your constant deflections isn't annoying, it's revolting, I don't give two shits how tired you pretend to be, your feelings don't matter.

You're not harassed by being banned, Tumblr's staff, with experts in their team, conclude every single time your blog should be terminated.

It gets reported under harm to minors, with evidence, and then your blog dies, if you "didn't break any guidelines" your blog wouldn't be terminated, this isn't about your feelings, it's about reality.

Just because everyone you leech from used to hold your hand, from privilege you don't deserve, from problems that don't exist, while you chase the attention from everyone's journeys you haven't and will never walk, because you're an internet nobody whose ""content"" consists of mockery and roleplaying over anybody else who has knowledge, life experience, accolades, contributions, and paths to walk, you have lost the privilege to exist on the platform.

IQ is irrelevant, even if it were a factor yours is 50 points below my own.

Everyone else here is more intelligent than your droning TikTok slop neural waste, which is what you host, the concept of antibraincells is a perfect fit for someone like you, you're ignorant, you're objectively unintelligent, and you have nothing but words to contribute, background noise in provocative format, you're the equivalent of seeing the world around you building up castles with their hands, and you bitch like a banshee because you can't even hold a block, so you throw a tantrum when the people you suicide bait and sexually harass don't give you attention, someone could have the smoothest flatter than graphene brain and they'd still be smarter, more intelligent, and more valuable than you are, or ever will be.

Newsflash, because I'm only saying this once, given you keep lying about being tired of the drama you started and trying to have. "The last word-" this won't happen, the last word is mine and everyone else's, you're not even fit to speak, instead, read carefully:

I'm not tired of banning you, I haven't broken a sweat, the only one with a God complex is you, an objectively irrelevant non surviving poser, who leeches off content creators' time and effort to put something in your mouth, because there's no value to you in the first place, yet you think, somehow, that you are entitled to anybody's graces, you're not entitled to civility, you're not even entitled to being regarded.

You will be banned, now and forever, and you'll do so without complaining to everybody else whose attention you've sought for months and time you wasted, quietly, and thanking them for spending any time at all interacting back with problems you started, after you and your imaginary friends kept putting our names in your mouth.

Now shut the fuck up and keep to yourself or get banned again, no one cares, see how you went back my blog pretending to be worth anyone's time in my direction? pretending you're anything but an online speck in my sphere? your place is off the grid, and you will continue to be rightfully banned, deal with it, in silence, and be thankful you get even this much a response, it's more you'll ever deserve.

We all know you're not tired Dani,if that was the case then you wouldn't have sent this poor excuse of a message to Choco in the first place.

Stop acting like you're in any position to make any kind of demands because you're not. The people you hurt and the people you tried to desperately leech off of will decide rather or not to stop talking about you and you will have no choice but to deal with it.

Don't like it? Too damn bad you've lost the privilege to beg for respect, kindness and sympathy.

For once in your pathetic life Dani actually listen to Choco and shut your disgusting shithole of a mouth.
